

Table of Contents

---

Illustrations	ix
Tables	xi
Foreword	xiii
Acknowledgments	xv
Chapter One: Introduction and Overview Tahir Shad and Syed Hussain Shaheed Soherwordi	1
Chapter Two: The Economic Implications of the Federally Administered Tribal Areas' (FATA) Merger with Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Syed Hussain Shaheed Soherwordi	7
Chapter Three: Economic Development in FATA: A Strategic Perspective of Pakistan's Foreign Policy Noor Shah Jahan	23
Chapter Four: The Socioeconomic Profile of the Federally Administered Tribal Areas Noreen Naseer	63
Chapter Five: Religion and Politics in FATA Fazal Wahid	79

Chapter Six: From Jihad to Salam in Pursuit of Political Change: A Perspective Based on Qur'ānic Sources Muqtedar Khan and Tahir Shad	93
Chapter Seven: Indigenous Economics and the Role of Women in Economic Development of Federally Administered Tribal Areas Zainab Azmat	105
Chapter Eight: Women Empowerment Through Livestock Management: A Strategy for Achieving the Sustainable Development Goals (A Case Study of Mohmand Agency of Federally Administered Tribal Areas) Shaista Naz and Noor Paio Khan	121
Chapter Nine: Exposure to Violence, Human Capital, and Market Development: The Case of FATA Muhammad Nasir	135
Chapter Ten: Education and Socioeconomic Development of FATA: Challenges and Opportunities Sajid Ali	153
Chapter Eleven: Economic Development in the FATA and Impediments to Progress Amina Khan	169
Chapter Twelve: Assessing the Potential for Food Self-Sufficiency on Fragmented Farms in FATA Shahnaz Akhtar, Sher Ayaz and Muhammad Sabir Afridi	179
Chapter Thirteen: Accelerating Economic Development of Federally Administered Tribal Areas via Improved Transportation and Communication: A Way Forward Muhammad Sabir Afridi	197
Chapter Fourteen: Employment and Economic Development in FATA Saeed Ahmed	219
Chapter Fifteen: Justification for Construction of Dams: An Economic Viability of the Jabba Dam in FATA Zalakat Khan Malik and Asfandiyar	233
About the Authors	269
Contributors	271
Index	279