

Contents

List of Contributors	vii
1 National Identities and Collective Memory in an Enlarged Europe Willfried Spohn	1
PART I: COLLECTIVE IDENTITIES IN EUROPE AND EUROPEAN IDENTITIES
2 European Self-Understanding in the Twentieth Century Hartmut Kaelble	17
3 East-European Historical Bequest en Route to an Integrated Europe Jerzy Jedlicki	3 7
4 Global Diaspora? European Jewish Consciousness? Reflections on German Jewry and the Postmodern Debate Y. Michal Bodemann	49
PART II: EUROPE, NATIONAL IDENTITIES AND COLLECTIVE MEMORY IN WESTERN EUROPE
5 Re-modelling the Boundaries in the New Europe: Historical Memories and Contemporary Identities in German-Polish Relations Oliver Schmidtke	69
6 Italy, EU-Enlargement and the 'Reinvention* of Europe: Between Historical Memories and Present Representations Ilaria Favretto	87
7 Spain's 'Special Solidarity' with the East: The Influence of Collective Memory on Spanish Attitudes to EU-Enlargement Pablo Jduregui	109
PART III: EUROPE, NATIONAL IDENTITIES AND COLLECTIVE MEMORY IN EASTERN EUROPE
8 NATO and Hungarian Public Opinion András Kovács	125

9	Troublesome Anniversary: The Rise of the Czechoslovak Republic and its European Fellows in Czech Collective Memory Karel Kubis	151
10	Converting History into 'Cultural Treasure' in Post-1991 Kaliningrad: Social Transitions and the Meaning of the Past Olga Sezneva	179
THE ARGUMENT REVISITED
11	Remembering National Memories Together: The Formation of a Transnational Identity in Europe Klaus Eder	197
	Index	221